

I oppose letting passengers use cell phones during flight. It is already a "miserable" experience being next to someone during boarding and/or taxi in, when they are on a phone.

Also,

- There is no hard evidence that cell phone use doesn't interfere with navigational instruments.
- Security - Cell phone use would enable terrorists to coordinate a plan of action more effectively.
- The NPRM would leave it up to flight attendants to police the use of cell phones onboard the aircraft compromising our ability to maintain a safe, secure cabin environment and to conduct emergency evacuations.
- It would make an already tense cabin environment even more stressful.

Thank you for your consideration.